

AI Scribes: Information for Patients

What is an AI Scribe?

An AI scribe is an application that makes a temporary audio recording and transcript of your discussion and creates a draft summary “note” for your healthcare provider based on your conversation. This note will be reviewed and edited as needed by your healthcare provider and becomes part of your electronic medical record.

AI Scribe: Enhancing Patient Visits

How will this affect you?

If you agree, your doctor will begin using the AI scribe at the start of your visit. Your personal information will be collected and processed in accordance with applicable privacy laws. AI scribe vendors must comply with all laws in British Columbia and with our Health Authority in order to safeguard your personal information.

Risks Associated with AI Scribes

While safeguards are in place to protect your personal health information and comply with British Columbia and our Health Authority privacy laws, there are always some risks. These include possible inaccuracies in documentation, including how information is captured or processed, biases, or misuse of data despite safeguards. However, we have put in robust security measures to protect your personal information.

You will be Asked for Consent

The use of the AI scribe during your visit is completely voluntary. Your doctor will ask for your permission before using it, and you can decline or withdraw consent at any time without affecting your care.

If you have any questions about the collection of your personal information you can contact the Privacy Officer at privacy@phsa.ca or call 1.855.229.9800.
